Complete Dentures - Try-in

Inspect the articulated wax-tooth dentures sent back Check: from the laboratory on the working models 1. Adaption. 2. Flange extensions. 3. The denture bearing areas of the casts are Insert each denture individually and check that they seat free from laboratory-induced defects. fully. Do not use excessive force if they are not seating. Ask 4. Balanced articulation present. the patient how it feels and check for areas of blanching Blanching may be due to the acrylic baseplate material, Assess the support, there should not be any pressure points inaccurate set up of denture teeth or incorrect jaw registration. Assess the stability and retention There should not be rocking. Causes include overextended flanges, inaccurate post dam region or an inaccurate secondary impression. Assess and correct any flange over or underextensions Remark the post dam area if it is incorrectly placed. Check the post dam region · 2-4mm freeway space present. Insert both trial dentures and assess · Incisal plane is parallel to the inter-pupillary line. · Posterior occlusal planes are parallel to the alar-tragal line. Vertical dimensions · Plane of the mandibular teeth (tongue should rest on the lingual aspects of the lower teeth). Occlusal planes Check the papillae, incisal show, tooth position, shade, gingival position and contouring. Aesthetics of teeth and the smile line Phonetics test determine the position of the upper central Speech incisors e.g., pronounce 'F' or 'V', 'Mississippi'. Occlusion with articulating paper Minor adjustments can be addressed at the denture fit stage. If large adjustments are required, either reset the teeth chairside or remove the denture teeth and retake the jaw registration. Show the patient (and any accompanying person), confirm they are happy with the feel, function and aesthetics. Do not proceed if not Information to include: · 'Please process the denture for delivery'. · Tooth shade, shape and mould. Disinfect and send to the laboratory with clear instructions Shade of denture base (pink, veined, palate translucency)